

2018

H.N. Gupta Memorial Lecture

Martino Lupini
Caltech

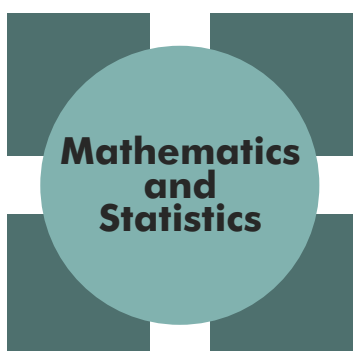

Friday, March 2, 2018

3:30-4:30 p.m.

Research and Innovation Centre 208
(RI 208)

The Noncommutative Poulsen Simplex

I will introduce the theory of noncommutative simplices, and explain how methods from mathematical logic allow one to define and study the noncommutative analogs of a canonical object in classical Choquet theory: the Poulsen simplex.

University of Regina

Faculty of Science