Donald Wayne Black

According to Don Black his two sons grew up believing their father couldn't keep a job. A kinder, more objective assessment is that Don applied his aptitude for numbers and his leadership abilities in helping to turn around some troubled financial services companies and overseeing impressive growth at several others.

Don grew up in Regina and studied accounting for a short time at the Regina campus of the University of Saskatchewan. He then joined local investment firm Houston Willoughby as an accounting clerk, although he had no idea what a stock or bond was. He soon recognized he wanted to be a broker, and discovered he was good at it, and at leading people. He became president of the company at age 32. Along the way he absorbed the lesson from company founder C. Morley Willoughby about the importance of each generation reinvesting in the community to make it stronger and better.

Don later helped lead the successful turnaround of Saskatchewan Government Insurance and then Pioneer Life Insurance after its sister company, Pioneer Trust, had collapsed. After a brief stint as a car dealer, in 1992 Don became CEO of a small Regina-based investment management firm. He transformed it into Greystone Capital Management, now one of Canada's largest independent investment firms, with approximately $35 billion of assets under management. He is no longer involved in managing Greystone, but remains as board chair.

Don's sons Dustin (who has a son and a daughter) and Dallas live in Regina. Don and his partner Leanne split their time between Regina and Phoenix, Arizona.

Don has been honoured as a life member of the Friends of the RCMP and associate member of the RCMP Veterans Association for the long hours he devoted to the creation of the RCMP Heritage Centre. He is also a member of the Order of Canada and the Saskatchewan Order of Merit, among other honours.

Kevin Michael Vickers

Kevin Vickers was appointed Canada's Ambassador to Ireland in January 2015, after a distinguished career with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and as sergeant-at-arms of the House of Commons.

Kevin was born and raised in Newcastle (now part of the city of Miramichi), New Brunswick, and studied at St. Francis Xavier University and the University of Calgary. His 29-year career with the RCMP included postings in Alberta and the Northwest Territories before being appointed Inspector, District Commander, in the Acadian Peninsula district in his home province. As the force's Incident Commander he helped resolve the confrontation over native fishing rights at Burnt Church, New Brunswick, in 1999-2000. He later served as Director-General of the Force's Aboriginal Police Services branch. He has been recognized for leading Canadian police force investigations into the international drug trade, and for his work in developing a national strategy for the protection of children from sexual exploitation on the Internet, resulting in the creation of a national centre of expertise to combat the problem.

Kevin was appointed director of Security Operations for the House of Commons in 2005, becoming sergeant-at-arms a year later, with responsibility for 1,000 employees within the parliamentary precinct. In January 2013 he skillfully resolved a potentially difficult situation when 3,000 Idle No More protesters gathered on the Hill.

The image of Kevin Vickers, sergeant-at-arms, carrying the ceremonial gold mace into the House of Commons the day after he helped stop the October 2014 attack on Parliament Hill has become part of our national iconography. He prefers to pass the praise on to his staff.

Kevin is the recipient of the Queen's Jubilee Medal, the Canada 125 Medal and the RCMP Long Service Medal. The community of Burnt Church has recognized him for his service there. He was bestowed an honorary degree from Mount Allison University earlier this year.

He and wife Ann have a son, Andrew, who is a police officer in Miramichi, and a daughter Laura. Grandchildren include granddaughter Reese and grandsons Lucas and Lachlin.

Ann Blair Thomas Callahan

Ann was born on the Peepeekisis First Nation in 1935. Her parents, John and Nora Thomas, spoke both Cree and English at home. She attended the File Hills and Birtle Indian Residential schools for 14 years. As a child she attended traditional ceremonies of her people and was given the spirit name of Wapiskisiw Piyésis (White Birdwoman) by Elder Ochapawase at age four.

With the support of positive role models she completed high school and then became one of the first Aboriginal nurses to graduate from what is now the Health Sciences Centre in Winnipeg, in 1958. Ann began working at the hospital and soon was appointed head nurse of the Women's Pavilion, where she stayed until 1973. She left to coordinate health care for a newly created agency delivering services to people in need. Ten years later she moved to Red River Community College, where she was an instructor and academic counselor.

Ann took a variety of courses to expand her knowledge during her career. When she retired from nursing in 1996, her uncommon commitment to healing and lifelong learning endured. She earned a bachelor's degree with a major in psychology, and then a master's degree in interdisciplinary studies.

Throughout her life Ann has contributed to numerous initiatives and projects aimed at improving the health of Aboriginal people and encouraging more Aboriginals to enter the healthcare field. She has lectured widely on the residential school experience – the subject of her master’s thesis – and helped Elders coordinate healing ceremonies for the File Hills community.

Ann has received many honours and awards, including the naming of the Critical Services building at the Health Sciences Centre in her honour and a Lifetime Achievement Award from the Aboriginal Nurses Association of Canada.

Ann’s only child, Michael, died two years ago. Her extended family includes two grandchildren, four great-grandchildren, and what she describes as a family tree branching in all directions.

AWARDS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

PLATFORM AWARDS

Governor General's Academic Gold Medal

This award recognizes the most outstanding academic performance of a graduate student. The decision of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research Scholarship and Awards Committee was based on the quality of the thesis/exhibition, external examiner's report, quality of the defense, course work, CGPA, publications and presentations deriving directly from the research done for the thesis/exhibition, and on awards achieved.

The pool of applicants includes all graduate students who have a thesis or exhibition deemed meritorious by their examining committee, and who apply for graduation at the Spring Convocation, or who graduated at the previous Fall Convocation. This year there were 47 students eligible for this competition.

Dr. Darryl Hunter convoked in October 2014 with a Doctor of Philosophy in Education.

Dr. Ken Montgomery, Associate Dean (Research and Graduate Programs) in the Faculty of Education, states that "Dr. Hunter is a scholar of exceptional caliber who has consistently ranked at the top of his graduate courses." Dr. Hunter has received numerous graduate scholarships and awards, including being co-recipient of the 2014 President's Distinguished Graduate Student Award.

Academically, Dr. Hunter's overall average in his doctoral work was 92.75. His supervisor, Dr. William R. Dolmage, states that "in my 25-plus years in the academy, Dr. Hunter is, without a question, the most capable graduate student I have encountered."

Just as noteworthy, Dr. Hunter has co-written a book entitled "Put to the test: Teacher professionalism and assessment in Canada," which is now with the University of Regina Press. His doctoral research has yielded four journal articles that are in various stages of peer review and publication, and he has another article currently in peer review on Canadian middle years teachers' classroom assessment practices.

The external examiner for Dr. Hunter's dissertation, "'About Average': A Pragmatic Inquiry into School Principals' Meanings for a Statistical Concept in Instructional Leadership" was Dr. Jerald Paquette, Professor Emeritus, Western University. Dr. Paquette stated that "this is undeniably a significant piece of research in its field." As well, he further commented that "the originality and scholarship of this thesis borders on the stunning."

The Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research is proud to claim Dr. Darryl Hunter as a graduate of the Faculty, and to have recommended him for the award of its most distinguished prize, the Governor General's Academic Gold Medal.

Governor General's Academic Silver Medal

The Governor-General's Academic Silver Medal is awarded at convocation to the most distinguished graduating student receiving a first degree and is based on academic excellence. Isabella Adriana Hugel is the recipient of this prize at the 2015 Spring Convocation. Isabella is graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Computer Science, with a Co-operative Education designation, achieving Great Distinction.

Isabella graduated from Greenall School in June 2010. While studying at the University of Regina, she has received many scholarships in recognition of her academic achievements, including: Academic Gold Scholarship (Winter 2011, Fall 2011, Fall 2012, Fall 2014), Academic Silver Scholarship, Centennial Merit Plus Scholarship, ISM Canada IT Futures Scholarship, Muriel E. Finlayson Undergraduate Computational Science Research Scholarship, NSERC Undergraduate Student Research Award (Spring/Summer 2012, Spring/Summer 2013), Regina Engineering Society Scholarship, Rural Student Entrance Scholarship, Saskatchewan Innovation Undergraduate Scholarship, SED Systems – A Division of Calian Ltd. Scholarship, Shell Canada Scholarship in Computer Science, Stantec Scholarship in the Faculty of Engineering, University Medal, and Wascana Preceptory No. 51 Knights Templar Scholarship (Fall 2012, Spring/Summer 2013).

In the 2012 Spring/Summer semester, Isabella was the recipient of a university-sponsored NSERC Undergraduate Student Research Award, and worked under the supervision of Dr. Howard J. Hamilton. The title of this award was "Fast, Flexible Crowd Animation Guided by the Influence of Individuals on Perceived Quality". Crowd animation refers to animating simulated crowds of people or autonomous creatures. It is used in games, films, emergency planning, etc. Due to the complexity of choosing actions for many interacting individuals in a crowd and then animating these actions, crowd animation is challenging for current systems.

The goal of her project was to systematize the handling of update rates of individuals in a crowd, based on their perceived influence on visual realism. In other words, the idea was that more computer time would be spent on the members of the crowd who were more easily seen. As a result of the research, some crowd simulation software was developed and evaluated. A report was prepared for internal use, but it was not submitted for publication. Dr. Hamilton also commented, "She is noted for her many articulate questions in lectures, her careful, comprehensive work on assignments, and her brilliant performance on examinations."

In the 2013 Spring/Summer semester, Isabella was the recipient of a second NSERC Undergraduate Student Research Award, and worked under the supervision of Dr. Orland Hoerber. The title of her project was "Visualizing Temporally Changing Sentiment in Twitter Streams". Her work on this project provided the basis for subsequent funding and ongoing research in this domain. She was a co-author on the workshop paper: She was a co-author on the workshop paper entitled "Visual Twitter analytics: Exploring fan and organizer sentiment during Le Tour de France," in Proceedings of the IEEE VIS Workshop on Sports Data Visualization (2013).

Outside of her studies, Isabella has a passion for music that's led her to take part in the University of Regina concert band as a flautist, and become a volunteer keyboard player for St. Agnes Roman Catholic Church. Both of these endeavors require numerous hours of practice to learn the music, and how to integrate her portion into the full musical piece. Truly, Isabella is a distinguished student, in her academics, research work, and extra-curricular activities.

President's Medal

The University of Regina President's Medal is awarded at each Spring and Fall Convocation to a student receiving a first degree who has shown academic excellence as well as major leadership and commitment to extra-curricular activities while a student. The recipient this spring is Natasha Jocelyn Ku.

Natasha is graduating with a Bachelor of Arts, major in Japanese, with Great Distinction and International Designation. She is also receiving a Bachelor of Science, major in Mathematics, with Great Distinction. For a student to attempt such diverse fields is uncommon; excelling at both, as Natasha has, with an average of just above 90%, is truly exceptional. The Faculty of Arts and the Faculty of Science each commend Natasha on this excellent achievement.

Natasha's academic promise was evident from the beginning of her studies at the University of Regina. In recognition of her success at Kipling High School, she was awarded the S.E. Stewart Faculty of Arts Entrance Scholarship, the Rural Student Entrance Scholarship and the Centennial Merit Plus Scholarship. Throughout her studies she earned the Academic Gold Scholarship four times, along with an award in the Japanese Language. One of her instructors commented that "[I] can say unreservedly that she is one of the ten best students I have ever taught."

Natasha furthered her studies in Japanese by attending Tenri University, in Japan, for one year. While there she served as an ambassador for the University of Regina, and Canada, by volunteering to teach English and Math in the community. She also volunteered to serve as a Japanese translator at Queensland National Park in Australia. She credits these experiences with improving her confidence as a leader.

In aid to her fellow students, Natasha served as their representative on the Peer Disciplinary Council and the Faculty of Arts Undergraduate Scholarship Committee. She has consistently volunteered with Orientation, Residence Move-in, Welcome Week and similar activities throughout the semester. She has also assisted her peers through work as a Supplementary Instruction Leader for Statistics, and as a Japanese teaching assistant. One of her proudest signature accomplishments has been the founding of the Japanese Culture Club on campus. ### University Medal

The University Medal is presented annually at Spring Convocation to the most distinguished student – one who has achieved academic excellence in all courses completed during the previous twelve months with a minimum of 30 credit hours in two semesters. This year the University Medal is awarded to two students: Belma Kamencic from the Faculty of Science and Tuan Mihn Mai from the Faculty of Engineering and Applied Science.

In 2014, Belma Kamencic graduated from Campbell Collegiate, and she is currently working towards a Bachelor of Science degree program. Over the past academic year, she has achieved a CGPA of 96.8%. During her first year of study at the University of Regina, she has already received many scholarships in recognition of her academic achievements, including: Centennial Merit Scholarship (2014 Fall), and Dean's List; Science Faculty (2014 Fall & 2015 Winter).

"Her intelligence, hard work and superior laboratory skills inspired her first year Chemistry lab instructor to suggest that she consider summer research. A first year undergraduate student working for the first time in a laboratory experiences a steep learning curve, which Belma is handling exceptionally well. In our lab, she has been focussed, diligent, quick to learn new methods, organized, creative and a careful note taker, all hallmarks of a good researcher."

The Faculty of Science congratulates Belma on her accomplishments and wishes her the best of luck with her future endeavours.

Tuan Mihn Mai

Tuan is currently working towards a Bachelor of Applied Science in Petroleum Systems Engineering. Over the past academic year, he has achieved a CGPA of 96.8%.

Bachelor of Education After Degree (BEAD) Convocation Prize

The Bachelor of Education After Degree (BEAD) Convocation Prize was established by the Faculty of Education in March 2014 to encourage and recognize BEAD students. The BEAD Convocation prize is awarded to the most distinguished graduate, with an overall internship rating of "Outstanding" and the highest grade point average in the program.

The Faculty of Education is pleased to present the BEAD Convocation Prize to Karyn Booy, a distinguished graduate in the Faculty of Education.

Karyn is graduating with a Bachelor of Education (Secondary) with Great Distinction. She majored in Biology Education with a minor in Chemistry Education. During her studies at the University of Regina, Karyn was the recipient of an Academic Silver scholarship (2014 Fall).

During her time with the Faculty of Education, Karyn found that the Faculty's focus on social justice issues helped to transform the way she views and interacts with students within the classroom and broader community. This commitment to social justice is reflected in Karyn's work with the Sonlight Christian Reformed Church and the Indian Métis Christian Fellowship in Regina.

In the fall, Karyn will pursue a Master's Degree in Biological Sciences from the University of Manitoba, where she has been awarded a 2015 NSERC grant to study the impacts of noise pollution on the resident Arctic beluga population. She is confident this research will enhance the science education she provides in future classrooms.

The Faculty of Education is pleased to present the BEAD Convocation Prize to Karyn Booy and wishes her success in her future endeavours.

Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation Prize

At each University of Regina convocation ceremony, the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation (STF) awards a prize to the most distinguished student of the graduating class in the Faculty of Education who does not hold another degree. Janelle is graduating with a Bachelor of Education in Elementary Education with Great Distinction. During her studies, Janelle was the recipient of an Academic Silver Scholarship (Fall 2012) and Academic Gold Scholarships (Fall 2013 & Fall 2014). She was also on the Dean's Honours List in two consecutive semesters (Fall 2013 & Winter 2014).

Ms. Zborowski has a passion for teaching and cares deeply for her students and the communities they come from. She has volunteered at the Student Energy in Action for Regina Community Health (SEARCH) Initiative and sat on the Adopt-a-Family committee for Mother Teresa Middle School. For her, these opportunities affirm the importance of community partnerships and communal relationships.

During her internship, Janelle integrated Indigenous perspectives into the curriculum by inviting an Aboriginal storyteller and artist into her classroom and by having a sharing circle every day. She is grateful to the Faculty of Education for helping to prepare her for the experience.

Janelle feels that her success was largely due to the compassion and understanding of her family, who have proven to her that holism is the most powerful tool that educators can employ to ensure the success and well being of students. The Faculty of Education is pleased to present the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation Prize to Janelle Zborowski, and wishes her much success in her future endeavours

She intends to pursue graduate studies in toxicology and human health risk assessment, with the aspiration of engaging more Aboriginal communities and people in the sciences.

Faculty of Fine Arts Dean's Medal

Austin Josephson is being awarded the Dean of Fine Arts Medal, an honour bestowed on a Fine Arts student who has shown both academic achievement and leadership while attending the University of Regina.

Mr. Josephson, graduating with a Bachelor of Fine Arts, Major: Film Production (Distinction), has a cumulative grade point average of 83.6%, and has demonstrated great commitment to his university community and beyond.

Austin began his studies at the University of Regina, Luther College, in the Fall of 2010. While Austin began and remained a committed Film Production student throughout his time at the University of Regina, he developed other interests across many areas. Courses in Sociology, Creative Technologies, and a minor in Indigenous Studies affected his work as an artist. He has come to appreciate that film can be used to educate, enlighten, and help make the world a better place.

Austin's leadership contributions at Luther College have been substantial. He was involved with the mentorship program Jump Start, was an active member of the Luther Students Association and has participated as a student member of their strategic planning team. His volunteer work at the North American Indigenous games married his technical skills and interest in Indigenous Studies with his desire to be a part of an important event held in our city. In addition to the above commitments, he continued his volunteer work at the Regina Lutheran Home that he began as a high school student.

The value that Austin places on being a leader, team member and engaged member of his community is evident to all who know him. Dr. Bryan Hillis, President of Luther College, notes that "Austin works hard, is always happy when you meet him, and has yet more energy whenever he is asked to help out." Dr. Christine Ramsay of the Department of Film notes that he is a "diligent, dedicate, capable and self-directed student, thoughtful beyond his years."

Mikyla has maintained an outstanding academic and performance record while also serving as a leader within the Music Department, most recently as the Music Student Association President, and within the provincial music community. In addition she has volunteered with Campus for All, and has mentored younger music students. Professor Brent Ghiglione expresses the sentiment of those who have known Mikyla during her time here. "My few words cannot begin to describe the talent or quality of this young woman. I do know that she is a wonderful musician and works relentlessly on behalf of others."

The Faculty of Fine Arts wishes her the best as she begins her Master of Music (Flute Performance) at the University of Manitoba this fall on full scholarship.

Faculty of Science Dean's Medal

The Faculty of Science Dean's Medal is awarded each year to the student that the Faculty of Science nominates for the President's Medal. The President's Medal is awarded at convocation to the most distinguished graduating student receiving a first degree and is based on academic standing alongside a strong demonstration of leadership in, and commitment to, extracurricular activities. Kristen Aneta Leigh was nominated for the President's Medal by the Faculty of Science for the Spring 2015 convocation ceremony, and is the recipient of the Faculty of Science Dean's Medal. Kristen is graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Biology, Concentration in Ecology & Environmental Biology, achieving Great Distinction. Kristen is graduating with a Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) of 87.6%.

As a result of her consistently outstanding academic record, with term averages ranging from 83.2% up to 91.5%, Kristen was awarded the Academic Silver Scholarship in the Fall semesters of 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014.

Outside of her academic studies, Kristen has truly excelled in her volunteer experiences. She was a Supplemental Instruction (SI) Leader for one of our Phys 109 sections for the Fall 2014 semester. Volunteering as an SI leader requires several hours of dedication, both in attending the course with the students and drafting lesson plans to lead the SI sessions at a later date.

In the fourth year of her university studies, as part of a business class entitled Innovation and Entrepreneurship, she opened a community based business called Soulful Sandwiches. Through this business, in conjunction with Tangerine: The Food Bar, she sold sandwich vouchers to those that wanted to give back to the community and to help those in need. The vouchers were used to provide a nutritious meal in a welcoming environment to women staying at either SOFIA House, or The Shirley Schneider Support Centre. SOFIA house is a second stage transition home for women who have been abused. The Shirley Schneider Support Centre is a teen mothers program offered through Balfour Collegiate.

Currently, she volunteers as a Queen of Green Coach for the David Suzuki Foundation. This program is designed to help people learn how to make their home a focus of green practices to reduce their impact on the planet. She will be working with seven families over the next several months to work these green practices into their every day routines. This area of volunteer work is perfectly suited to the BSc in Biology, Concentration in Environmental Biology & Ecology, that she has completed this year.

Kristen has shown herself to not only be an outstanding academic, but also a compassionate person that has led her to become a strong leader in helping people through innovative and creative ways. Her volunteer and academic experiences have been the basis of developing the skills required to help her succeed in whatever path she chooses to follow in the future.

Faculty of Nursing/Saskatchewan Polytechnic Deans' Medal

The Faculty of Nursing/Saskatchewan Polytechnic Deans' medal is awarded at convocation to a graduate of the Saskatchewan Collaborative Bachelor in Science Nursing program receiving a first degree with a minimum average of 80%, who has shown leadership in and commitment to extra-curricular activities while a student in the program. The Saskatchewan Collaborative Bachelor of Science in Nursing (SCBScN) program is very pleased to present the Deans' medal to Pei Ying (Jackie) Kiew-Gaco.

Jackie Kiew-Gaco is graduating from the SCBScN program in Saskatoon with a CGPA of 81%. As a mature student, she quickly stood out as a leader among her SCBScN peers and was nominated by her classmates to sit on the executive of the Saskatoon Nursing Student Society (SNSS) in the role of Academic Vice President. During her two-year term, Jackie was an effective leader who gave a voice to students in Saskatoon and helped them navigate through the growing pains of a new program at an off-campus site. As an executive member of the SNSS she effectively represented the students, the SCBScN program and the University of Regina in various capacities. Through involvement in program policy changes, student recruitment and retention initiatives, and student driven social functions, she has proven to be an engaged learner and valuable student advocate.

While managing the very heavy workload of a nursing student, Jackie continued to remain active in the community with her volunteerism in both athletics and the arts. She is passionate about her community and helping the children within it. Jackie has been described as a "tireless volunteer" and has dedicated her time to community activities such as coaching soccer, teaching cultural dance and helping with local events. She believes in positive role modeling, which is evidenced through her work at the Heritage Chinese Language School where she is a champion of her culture and shines as a role model for her children and her community.

Jackie has successfully balanced her family life and community involvement with her nursing studies. Her self-motivated and goal-oriented philosophy has helped her to deal with the pressures and high expectations that are placed on students in the nursing program. She has been praised as being a “well-prepared, confident student with the ability to motivate and guide her peers”. She has been able to translate the theory and knowledge she has gained into the clinical setting. She demonstrates her value and belief in positive role modeling not only in her community but also in her education and clinical practice. She has been able to connect and develop mentoring relationships and provide positive role modeling for the disadvantaged youth she worked with in her fourth year community placement at an inner city high school in Saskatoon.

University Prize in Social Work

The University Prize in Social Work is awarded to the most distinguished Social Work student achieving the highest grade point average among students graduating with a first degree in the Faculty of Social Work. The recipient this spring is Barbara Pelletier.

Barbara grew up in Bavaria, Germany, as the oldest of four sisters. She has fond memories of building forts in the woods and exploring the hills and valleys for hours. She remembers starting to learn about colonialism and its effects on North American Aboriginal people in elementary school, and a certain feeling of responsibility never left her since. She recalls, “the awareness that Europeans like me went overseas for their own benefit and along the way caused so much damage birthed a desire in me to bring something positive, to bring blessing instead of curse.” After finishing high school in Oettingen, she packed her suitcase and travelled to Saskatchewan, volunteering with youth and taking advantage of short-term work permits. After obtaining her permanent resident status, she started taking classes towards her BSW at the Parkland Regional College in Yorkton to be better equipped for work in the helping professions. Her first job in the field was as a home visitor with KidsFirst. Only years later would she realize that the skills and mindset modelled by her team of supervisors and co-workers were examples of exemplary social work skills, whereby they lived out anti-oppressive and client-centered practice. Barbara's education was set aside for several years as her family increased by one, then two, beautiful girls.

In the midst of a personal crisis as her marriage fell apart and she found herself in Prince Albert, away from family and friends, Barbara returned to pursue her BSW once more. Being a single mother of a newborn and a 2-year-old, she experienced what it was like to be on the receiving end of services and help. Until then, Barbara's life had been fairly smooth and comfortable; now she learned to reach out for help and obtained a much deeper understanding of loss, stigma and financial hardship. She also learned about the kindness of strangers who often became friends and part of her own healing journey.

Barbara feels deeply honoured and blessed to be the recipient of this year's University Prize in Social Work. One of the greatest gifts of completing her degree was the many wonderful and passionate instructors and fellow social work students she met and learned from along the way. Barbara knows that the learning that has come from these relationships will stay with her throughout her life. Many thanks also go out to Barbara's loyal friends and family who have been a tremendous support for her over the years. Through it all, Barbara acknowledges her strongest asset has proven to be her faith in God. Barbara says “He has been my rock and my provider and I am so thankful for the strength he has given me.”

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC COSTUME

The academic dress worn by the graduates and the members of the platform procession consists of a gown, a hood or stole (worn over the shoulders), and a hat or mortarboard. All universities have distinctive academic dress for each degree offered, and sometimes for the disciplines in which the degree is awarded. This fact explains the variety of academic dress worn by members of the platform procession, who have graduated from many different institutions or represent particular groups.

The University of Regina Senate By-laws and the Convocation Procedures dictate the academic dress for Convocation.

Honorary degree recipients wear a scarlet wool gown trimmed with gold silk around the collar and down the front. The honorary degree hood, which is presented to the honorary degree recipient at the ceremony, has a shell of scarlet wool lined with gold silk with an inverted green silk chevron and colors distinctive to the degree. The University awards four honorary degrees: Doctor of Laws honoris causa (LLD) – red with gold lining and a green chevron in the lining; Doctor of Letters honoris causa (DLitt) – red with gold lining and white and green chevrons in the lining; Doctor of Science honoris causa (DSc) – red with gold lining and mint green, emerald green and green chevrons in the lining; and Doctor of Fine Arts honoris causa (DFA) – red with gold lining and white, pink and green chevrons in the lining.

With the exception of students graduating with a PhD and students graduating from the federated colleges, graduates wear black gowns. PhD graduates' gowns are scarlet with royal blue around the collar, down the front and around the sleeves. Students graduating from the University of Regina registered through a federated college wear the colour of gown approved for the federated college. Campion College graduates' gowns are red, Luther College's are royal blue, and the First Nations University of Canada's are sky blue. Serving members of the Canadian armed forces may wear their dress uniform without an academic gown but must wear a hood corresponding to the degree they are receiving.

Descriptions of hoods worn by students graduating from the University of Regina are as follows:

Certificates:

Students receiving certificates wear an academic gown but typically do not wear an academic hood, except when the certificate program requires a previous degree, or the certificate recipient holds a previous degree. Certificates requiring a previous degree include:

- Advanced Certificate in Arts - BA hood;
- Advanced Certificate in Justice Studies - BA hood;
- Advanced Certificate in Police Studies - BAPS hood;
- BA Honours Certificate - BA hood;
- Certificate of Extended Studies in Education - BEd hood;
- Certificate of Extended Studies in Inclusive Education - BEd hood;
- Postgraduate Certificate in Engineering - BASc hood; and,
- Postgraduate Diplomas - hood of highest degree.

Students are formally hooded at the Convocation ceremony. This is typically performed by the Dean of each Faculty; however, the University permits members of the platform procession to hood graduating members of their immediate family. Hooding in this case is performed on stage left, just prior to the student being greeted by their Dean.

Honours and High Honours degrees are programs in which students take a more intensive concentration in their major area. Degrees awarded with distinction show a high standard of achievement in degree work, based on a graduating PGPA (Program Grade Point Average) of 80% to 84.99%. The highest standard is great distinction, reserved for those graduating with a PGPA of 85% or more. The University also has a number of institutional honours such as Co-operative Education (°), Mention bilingue (+), International (◆), Internship (●), each of which is noted in the program.

CEREMONIAL FURNITURE

The three ceremonial chairs were a gift to the University of Regina from Dr. Terence R. McKague, Chancellor Emeritus, whose term as chancellor ran from 1989-95. The chairs were acquired from Carmichael United Church, Dr. McKague's boyhood place of worship.

Also, two podiums, designed and constructed by the University of Regina, complement on stage the three decoratively adorned chairs. This ceremonial furniture is incorporated into all official ceremonial functions.

HONORARY DEGREES REGISTER

On June 6, 2004, at a Special Convocation ceremony held to confer an honorary degree on Her Royal Highness The Princess Royal, the University of Regina commenced with the tradition of having the honorary degree recipients sign an Honorary Degrees Register. This book, a dark green leather with a gold embossed University of Regina Crest and gold embossed lettering, was designed by Ms Brenda Righetti, Senior Executive Assistant to the President, and Ms Bev Liski, Convocation Coordinator, and hand crafted by Mr. Jack Perkins of J.L. Perkins Bookbinder Ltd.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE OF THE UNIVERSITY

The University of Regina operates under the terms of an Act of the Legislature of the Province of Saskatchewan, The University of Regina Act.

Convocation is composed of the Chancellor, the Senate, all graduates of the University of Saskatchewan at Regina, all graduates of the University of Regina and such other classes of persons as the Senate may from time to time determine. Graduates of the University of Saskatchewan, as defined by the University Act 1968, may become members of Convocation of the University of Regina by notifying the Secretary in writing of their desire to do so. Apart from extraordinary meetings that may be called, Convocation normally meets twice annually, in June and October.

The Chancellor is elected by the members of Senate, holds office for three years, presides over Convocation, confers degrees and is ex officio Chair of the Senate and a member of the Board of Governors.

Senate, because of its broad public representation, has been described as the university's "window on the world." Its general area of concern is the academic welfare of the institution and, within this area, it has a variety of duties and powers. Most of the broader issues of academic policy within the university are reserved for its approval. In another role, it acts as an ultimate court in academic affairs. The membership of Senate includes persons, ex officio, by virtue of their offices. Convocation elects another fourteen members of Convocation to the Senate. Students registered in the university elect six students of the university to Senate. In addition, any professional society, group or organization in the province that, in the opinion of the Senate, contributes in a significant way to the social, economic and cultural welfare of the province may be represented on Senate.

The Board of Governors consists of eleven members and is responsible for overseeing the administrative and business affairs of the university. Within the structure of the university, it has ultimate authority in all matters related to the raising and spending of university funds, and the acquisition and management of university property.

Council is the senior legislative body on academic matters. Its membership comprises a number of administrative officers, all Deans and directors of academic programs, all members of the teaching staff except sessional lecturers, and a number of student representatives. All matters of substance related to the academic affairs of the university must be considered and approved by the Council. It also possesses broad powers in matters of academic discipline. Increasingly, it has come to play a vital role in matters such as physical planning and budgeting.

The Executive of the University of Regina Council has been empowered by Council to act on its behalf in all matters with the provision that requesting a special meeting of Council may challenge a decision of the Executive. Membership of the Executive of Council provides for the selection of membership in such a way as to reflect, largely on a proportional basis, the academic composition of this university.

Disciplines that are related to one another in the broader areas of teaching are, for purposes of administrative and academic planning, brought together into Faculties, of which there are currently ten. Each Faculty is headed by a Dean and formal membership includes the Dean and the teaching members of the various associated disciplines. The Deans are recognized by The University of Regina Act as being the chief executive officers of the faculties and are directly responsible to the President, through the Provost and Vice-President (Academic). Each Faculty, subject to the statutes of the Senate and the University of Regina Council, has charge of all matters of scholarship in its disciplines and programs.

UNIVERSITY OF REGINA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

As graduates of the University of Regina, students belong to a family of more than 65,000 alumni. Membership in the University of Regina Alumni Association is automatic upon graduation from the University of Regina or if written permission has been granted by the Alumni Board.

The Alumni Association, a non-profit charitable organization, was formed in 1974 and is governed by a volunteer board of directors. The association promotes the accomplishments and supports the future development of the University of Regina, its students and alumni. This is reflected in the Alumni Association's vision statement: "We are the leading proponent of our University and our alumni throughout the world."

Through fundraising and partnerships, the Alumni Association has established a number of scholarships and also supports campus activities, academic accomplishments, and student development.

Annually, the Alumni Association hosts a gala event, the Alumni Crowning Achievement Awards, which honours Alumni in the following categories: Lifetime Achievement, Young Alumni, Professional Achievement, Humanitarian and Community Service, and Outstanding (volunteer) Service. Nominations of these awards are processed through the Alumni Relations office.

The office of Alumni Relations is located in the External Relations Department and works in partnership with the Association on joint initiatives which further the positive reputation of the University of Regina, its alumni, students, faculty, and staff.

The Alumni board of directors schedules meetings bi-monthly, and holds its Annual General Meeting in June. Any alumnus or alumna interested in becoming a board member should contact Alumni Relations at uralumni@uregina.ca.

The Alumni Association is the official supplier of University of Regina degree frames, available at Convocation in the lobby today or online at www.mdf-reg.ca/. Proceeds from frame purchases support student scholarships.

UNIVERSITY OF REGINA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION AWARDS FOR EXCELLENCE

Since 1990, the University of Regina and the University of Regina Alumni Association have collaborated to celebrate the achievements of accomplished faculty in the areas of teaching, research and service as part of an annual awards program. Last year, the program was expanded to include the category of graduate research mentorship.

The following four faculty members have been selected as this year's recipients of University of Regina Alumni Association Excellence Awards.

Dr. Thomas Hadjistavropoulos — Award for Excellence in Graduate Research Mentorship

Thomas Hadjistavropoulos is known among fellow faculty and graduate students as a strong leader both in research and in the lives of his students.

Over 100 students have benefited from Hadjistavropoulos' research grants, receiving funding that helped to support their studies. In addition, his students have had opportunities to publish peer-reviewed articles, chapters and abstracts together with their academic mentor. Such publications have been essential to these students' academic success by helping them to establish a publication track record and pursue exciting avenues of research.

As a graduate student supervisor, Hadjistavropoulos has brought his academic curiosity, research expertise and leadership experience fully to bear to the benefit of his students. The quality of his supervision has been described by many former students as encouraging, dedicated, collaborative, and "unmatched." His colleagues are quick to note that the 28 master's and doctoral students he has supervised have gone on to great achievements of their own, fuelled in large part by the guidance and opportunities they received under his supervision.

Hadjistavropoulos has been recognized for his leadership, vision, and work with students on numerous occasions. In 2006, the University of Saskatchewan awarded him the Alumni Mentorship Award for distinguished contributions to the mentorship of graduate students. His expertise in his discipline has been recognized by the Student Section of the Canadian Psychological Association, which invited him to give a keynote address on achieving research success.

The Alumni Association Award for Excellence in Graduate Research Mentorship focuses on the impact of the candidate's mentorship on his growth and development as a mentor, the development and growth of his mentees as future scholars and researchers, and the contribution of their shared scholarship and research to the lives of other students and academics who witness and cite their work.

Dr. Gordon Huang — Award for Excellence in Research

The Alumni Association Award for Excellence in Research focuses on the impact of the candidate's research in his/her discipline, as well as on the public good.

Faculty of Engineering professor and Tier I Canada Research Chair Gordon Huang is known for his ground-breaking work in energy, environment and climate systems modelling. These areas of focus have attracted extensive national and international attention, and the Canadian government uses his models to shape environmental policies that affect us all.

Huang has been a Tier I Canada Research Chair since 2003, and is executive director of the Institute for Energy, Environment and Sustainable Communities at the University of Regina and president of the International Society for Environmental Information Sciences. He has written over 700 peer-reviewed international journal papers, supervised more than 100 graduate students, and received over 150 research grants and contracts. His research has resulted in seven Natural Science and Engineering Research Council (NSERC) of Canada Strategic Grants in addition to more than ten other NSERC grants. Huang's research is, to say the least, far-reaching and prolific.

Huang's research has been instrumental locally in Saskatchewan, and his range of expertise and interest in applying his research to find real-world solutions are noted by experts in academic and non-academic sectors. One of those experts notes that he is "greatly impressed with [Huang's] desire to find a way to give back to his home province." He has formed partnerships in industry with major national and provincial companies, and his pioneering research has led to innovative solutions to complex problems.

The impact of Huang's research is evident not only locally and nationally, but also internationally. Huang is deeply respected in the academic community internationally, and his efforts to develop a strong research relationship both within and outside of his field have benefited the University as a whole.

Dr. Janis Dale — Award for Excellence in Teaching

Described by one colleague as "IceMaiden, Durt Girl and Teacher Extraordinaire," Janis Dale has been an enthusiastic and committed professor and mentor in the Department of Geology since 1993.

Over her 21 years of teaching at the University of Regina, Dale has taught 13 different undergraduate classes, eight different graduate classes, and a field school, and her enrolments have ranged from four to over 270 students per class. Dale has always taught her own laboratory sections for her 200- 300- and 400-level classes, demonstrating a keen understanding that laboratory work is integral to properly instructing students in the subject matter. As a member of a small department, Dale has often taught more than the average number of courses per year in the Faculty of Science, all the while maintaining an active research program and sitting on numerous University committees.

Dale's students consistently note several characteristics that make Dale an exceptional teacher. Firstly, she knows her subject matter intimately, and this mastery of knowledge is evident in the classroom, laboratory and field. Secondly, she emphasizes experiential learning, demonstrating an understanding that a strong geoscientist must be able to apply his or her knowledge in many settings. Finally, she exudes enthusiasm, both for the subject matter and for her role as an instructor. Students find her enthusiasm infectious and inspiring, and they know that she cares deeply about their academic success. Ever prepared to go the extra mile and help students overcome challenges, Dale is known to work unusual hours or tackle problems in new ways in order to help students succeed.

The University of Regina Alumni Association Award for Teaching Excellence recognizes sustained excellence in leadership and innovation for undergraduate teaching and learning at the University of Regina.
