Jan 19
Christopher Moore, Canadian Historian
A Living Tree? Canada’s Constitution 150 Years Ago – and Today
7:30 PM Reception to Follow
University of Regina, Education Building 191
Parking available
Lot 1M

The Making of Canada Lecture Series marks the 150th Anniversary of Confederation and the birth of Canada in 1867. More than simply recounting the events leading to Confederation in 1867, the lectures reflect on the spirit and principles of the original dreams of the founders of Canada. They consider how those goals and aspirations for a new country have played out in the past 150 years and how they might be updated to reflect the very different society in which we now live.

The commemoration of Canada at 150 is an excellent opportunity to make Canada’s history relevant to all its citizens.

The Lecture Series is organized by the Department of History and generously supported by the Office of the President and the Faculty of Arts at the University of Regina.

“We are of different races, not for the purpose of warring against each other, but in order to compete and emulate for the general welfare.”

- George-Étienne Cartier, 1865 in the Debate on Confederation

www.uregina.ca/arts/history/
Feb 8

Jérôme Melançon,
Lecturer, Département d’études francophones et interculturelles and Directeur, Centre de Recherches sur les francophonies en milieu minoritaire

“Contradictory Colonial Positions: The Ambiguous Trajectories of Francophones in the Canadian Prairies”

Michael Poplyansky,
Lecturer, Cité universitaire francophone, University of Regina

“Canada, a Bi-national Dominion? English Canadian Attitudes to Francophone National Holidays since Confederation”

7:30 PM Reception to Follow

University of Regina,
Language Institute 216 (Rotunda)

Parking available
Lot 3M

March 16

Andrea Sterzuk (Faculty of Education),
Russell Fayant (Gabriel Dumont Institute),
Michael Cappello (Faculty of Education), University of Regina

“The people of Canada want to have a white country”

Dr. Lee Ward, Alpha Sigma Nu
Distinguished Associate Professor, Campion College University of Regina

“Are Canadians a Fully Sovereign People in 2017?”

7:30 PM Reception to Follow

University of Regina,
Education Building 191

Parking available
Lot 1M

March 30

Lisa Leblanc,
Directrice, Développement créatif, Salle de l’histoire canadienne, Musée canadien de l’histoire/Director, Creative Development, Canadian History Hall, Canadian Museum of History

“Making the Canadian History Hall”

7:30 PM Reception to Follow

University of Regina,
Education Building 191

Parking available
Lot 1M