Regularized Cycle of JS Course Offerings (Dec 2021)

Subject to periodic update – be sure to check with JS main office for the most current version

This chart shows the regularized course offerings that our Department endeavours to provide to students each academic year. It is important that students use this chart and to work with Academic Advisors to plan their own program. Please note the Department reserves the right to postpone or cancel courses that have too few students, do not have instructors with expertise available or do not have the required financial resources.
