

Transition to Criminology!

What's Happening?

---

The Department of Justice Studies is transitioning to the Department of Criminology on May 1st, 2026.

Which Degrees Are Being Offered?

---

Students currently registered as Justice Studies majors can still receive their Bachelor of Human Justice degree and their Bachelor of Arts in Police Studies degree by fulfilling their current program requirements.

New students registered after May 1st, 2026, can receive Bachelor of Arts Degrees in Criminology or Police Studies.

Must Current JS Students Switch?

---

No! Current JS Students can complete their current degrees in Human Justice or Police Studies. But, current students can switch to the new Criminology program or the new Police Studies program, both with a Criminology core focus, if they want to.

University of Regina

Department of Justice Studies

To learn more about the Criminology degrees or the choices available to you, review the 2026/27 Academic Calendar or contact the U of R Advisors' Office at arts.studentservices@uregina.ca or your Federated College Registrar or Dean's Office.