Website: www.uregina.ca/arts/religious-studies/

9.28.1	General Information
9.28.2	BA Major in Religious Studies
9.28.3	Honours Major in Religious Studies
9.28.4	Minor in Religious Studies

9.28.1 GENERAL INFORMATION

The academic study of religion applies the techniques of the humanities and social sciences to the vast spectrum of human practices that claim to be grounded in a transcendent, superhuman, or otherwise extraordinary level of reality. The student may aim to better and more rigorously understand specific religious traditions or specific religious phenomena in their historical, social, linguistic, and cultural contexts. Others may wish to explore questions of more global and comparative significance, with a view to making sense of religion (or aspects thereof) as shared, cross-cultural, broadly human behaviors. Courses are not designed to foster personal religious commitments or to evaluate to that end the relative merits of various religious practices, traditions, and points of view.

Religious practices and beliefs figure prominently in a wide array of human activities, from music, film, and the visual arts to literature; from politics, economics, and collective meaning-making to personal coping mechanisms. The study of religion therefore can serve as an entry point or a supplement to any number of fields of academic study, as well as professions associated with public policy, health, social work, education, or business and administration.

Program outlines are available from the Arts Student Services Office: www.uregina.ca/arts/student-resources/choosing-program/program-outlines.html
