Meet the BSS & LGSA Presidents

Our students are a large part of our success in the Hill and Levene Schools of Business, and one of the driving forces behind student participation are our student groups - the Hill Business Students' Society (BSS) and the Levene Graduate Students' Association (LGSA). Cari-Lynn Schoettler is the 2015-2016 President of the BSS and Emily McNair is the 2015-2016 President of the LGSA. Take a moment to get to know the two of them better.

Q1: What program are you taking and where do you work/what is your job title?

Cari-Lynn: I am a fourth year, General Management major at the Hill School of Business.

Emily: I'm taking the Master of Administration, Leadership program at the Levene Graduate School. I work at the University of Regina as the "Principal Relations Officer".

Q2: What is the most memorable class you have ever taken?

Cari-Lynn: The most memorable class I have taken is Business 100 with Dr. Wallace (Wally) Lockhart. The class was a lot of work, but the major project where we had to make a plan to start a new business on campus was a really good experience. It was my first time having to do a large group project and it was neat to have the ability to create any business that we wanted to.

Emily: The most memorable undergraduate class I've ever taken was Organizational Behaviour with Dr. Ron Camp. We were asked to present our group projects in a "unique way," so my group decided to present it like a Ron Burgundy newscast. We pulled out all of the stops for the presentation - comb overs, a Ron Burgundy style suit, apple juice (in place of scotch), and a comical script. It was very memorable!

My most memorable graduate class so far has been Cases in Leadership with Dr. Gina Grandy. We learned a lot about different factors that contribute to effective vs. ineffective leadership, and we had to do fun, interesting projects for the class. Two that were the most memorable for me included a mind map where I had to channel my inner elementary school student while using a gluestick and coloured paper to create my masterpiece, as well as when I had to write a charismatic speech and deliver it in front of my classmates in my best charismatic style. Great learning opportunity!

Q3: Why did you decide to get involved in the Students' Societies?

Cari-Lynn: I attended a few events that the Hill BSS put on in my first year of university and was interested in what they did for the Hill School. When applications for the next year's council were open I jumped on the opportunity. Three years later I'm still here and enjoying every part of it!

Emily: When I was pursuing my undergraduate degree, I didn't participate in the student body until my fourth year. Looking back, I wish that I got involved sooner, and that encouraged me to stay involved after convocating. Now that I'm back as a graduate student, I was very Congratulations!

Congratulations to LC member Blair Swystun on his recent appointment as the President & CEO of Crown Investments Corporation of Saskatchewan.

Hill Mentor Program

Each year the Paul J. Hill School of Business runs the Hill Mentor Program. The program matches 3rd and 4th year Hill students with mentors from the business community, based on their mutual area of interest. Mentors meet with their assigned student for one hour per month from November through March and discuss topics such as career options, career progression, and business etiquette.

Leaders Council members are welcome to participate as mentors in the program. If you are interested in learning more or being matched with a student, please email Raelynn Moorhead at hill.mentor@uregina.ca before October 9.

excited to join the LGSA and work to provide opportunities for graduate students to get involved in the Faculty and network with each other.

Q4: What are you most looking forward to over the next year?

Cari-Lynn: I'm really looking forward to the new experiences that'll come this year. We are executing a new event this year, a case competition for first and second years, that we hope will bring new students out to our events and also get the younger students applying for conferences around the country. I'm also excited to start working with the new team of executives as well as all of the new council members!

Emily: I'm looking forward to getting more Levene students involved and providing them with more opportunities to meet each other and build new relationships. It should be a fun year!

Q5: What was the first concert you ever went to?

Cari-Lynn: I think the first concert I ever went to was Stompin' Tom Connors with my grandma when I was in grade five. She really wanted to see him and I couldn't turn down listening to The Hockey Song in person!

Emily: I'm embarrassed to say this, but I think the first concert I ever went to was Prozzäk - back when they were popular! Lol!

Q6: If you could learn to do anything, what would it be?

Cari-Lynn: I would love to learn how to be in two places at once. I think it would be beneficial to be able to do multiple things at one time.

Emily: I would love to learn how to fly an airplane. I think that would be such a cool "hobby," and could prove to be valuable in certain situations!

Q7: What is your favourite travel destination?

Cari-Lynn: My favourite travel destination would have to be Shanghai, China. I got to go with 17 other Hill students for the month of May in 2014. It was an eye-opening experience that I would highly recommend to other students in the Hill School. Opportunities like that don't come around often and I would love to go back if I could!

Emily: My favourite place so far has been traveling to Thailand. It's a beautiful country with amazing beaches. The locals are so friendly there, and the food is delicious. I'd love to go back there again!

Welcome!
