ANNUAL REPORT 2009-2010

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Dr. Harvey King
Director
Centre for Continuing Education

This is a very exciting time for the University of Regina as its renewed vision and strategy for the next five years was launched. The plan entitled mamâwohkamâ-towin: Our Work, Our People, Our Communities is a positive go-forward strategy. In support of this vision, Continuing Education undertook the development of our own strategic plan, Roadmap for Change, one where we can now confidently align our vision, values and mandate to reach out and serve the people of Saskatchewan with quality, flexible, innovative learning opportunities.

The needs of this learning community are varied and ever changing. They come to us with different goals and are at different stages in their lives. Working adults take advantage of our flexible scheduling and course delivery to attain their academic goals. Students outside of Regina seek further education through distance learning opportunities. Busy professionals look for intensive professional development opportunities to gain an applied skill. Children and youth seek engaging education in the performing arts at the Conservatory. Mature adults look for personal interest studies at the Lifelong Learning Centre. Students from around the world seek to become fluent in English to further their pursuit of education and employment opportunities in Canada.

So while Continuing Education serves a diverse community, we are unified by our shared desire to deliver the programs and educational opportunities to this wide array of students who might not otherwise have the chance to experience this programming. Continuing Education matters!

Through increased collaboration with our faculty and academic partners, we have extended the accessibility of these academic educational programs to over 7,200 learners, whether through distance learning, flexible scheduling or relevant certificates. Our personal and professional development programming also expanded in 2009-2010 with increased enrolment in our Business and Professional courses, continued growth in the English as a Second Language programming, growth in students pursuing performing arts education, and renewed focus on lifelong learner needs. Our outreach initiatives provided an opportunity for the University to reach and engage thousands of people in our community through lectures, programs, recitals and events.

Over the past year, our staff members have been recognized for their excellence and have continued to develop their professional credentials. It is important to acknowledge the contributions of our staff as they are the key reason that the activities and accomplishments reported here took place.

Thank you for taking the time to read our report.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

OUR VISION, MANDATE & VALUES

OUR VISION

We create diverse learning opportunities that empower people of all ages to build stronger communities.

OUR MANDATE

The mandate of the Centre for Continuing Education is to meet lifelong learning needs by offering high quality, accessible, innovative and responsive education and training programs to learners of all ages by building on the strengths and collaborating with the resources of the community and the University.

OUR VALUES

Providing excellent service.

Promoting a respectful workplace and learning environment.

Engaging collaborations and giving back to the community for outreach and partnerships.

Offering a variety of quality programs and services locally, nationally and internationally.

Bringing the University, Continuing Education and our community together.

Opening inclusive, accessible and safe avenues for all learners.

Growing innovative opportunities.

Managing resources responsibly.

ABOUT US

OUR STUDENTS

Our students are diverse. They range in age from new born to 99 and come from a variety of educational backgrounds - from those who entered the workforce straight from high school and those with PhD degrees. They each have one thing in common, the knowledge that learning never ends and a desire to invest in themselves, their families and their careers.

OUR INSTRUCTORS

Our instructors bring a passion for their topics to the table. All are qualified and accomplished in their fields , and more importantly, are committed to the success of their students.

OUR PROGRAMS

Continuing education means different things to different people – music, drama and dance for youth and adults; general interest classes and volunteer programs for older adults; courses, workshops and events for working professionals; personal development opportunities; English as a Second language training for international students; and degree certificates and courses in Regina and at a distance.

OUR OUTREACH

Our programming areas look for collaborative opportunities to extent the resources of the University community who may not normally have reason or access to participate in formal education programs.

OUR FLEXIBILITY

Our commitment to learning for everyone means designing flexible scheduling that provides numerous learning opportunities. Learn Anytimer, Anywhere (formerly UR NOW!) provides courses a night , on-line, and on weekends; Summer University enables students to finish their programs faster; distance learning opportunities make use of provincial networks, partnerships and technology to bring quality education to learners right in their own community; and many other programs are offered when you need them.

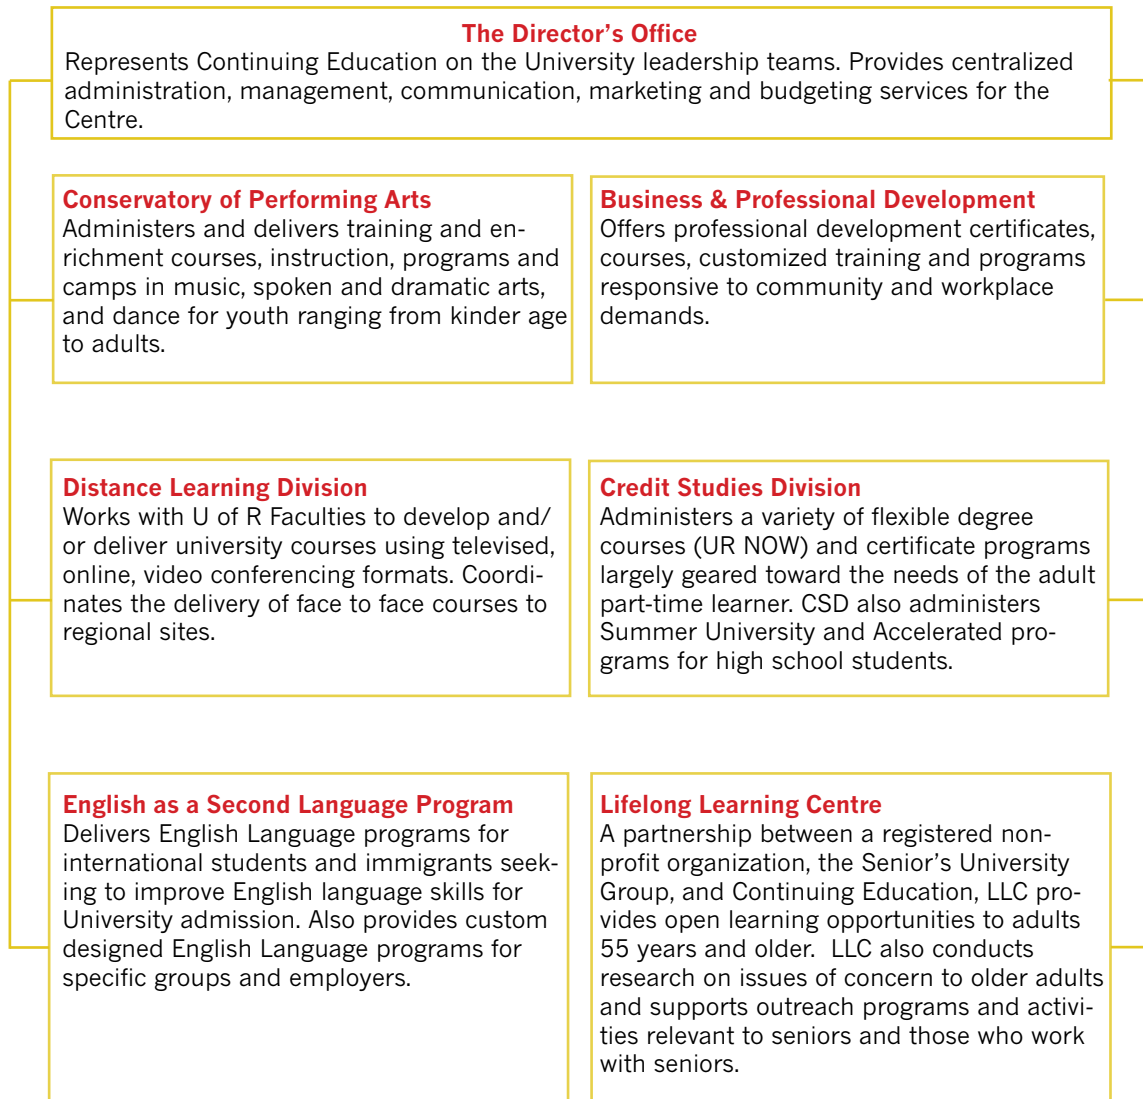

OUR STAFF

Our staff is committed to helping students enrich their lives through continuing education. We take pride in our dedication to our students, instructors and the wider social and business communities around us.

OUR STORY

The Continuing Education newsletter, cce connections, is published three times a year to let the rest of the University learn more about Continuing Education including its programs and events, the people, and the community, telling the stories of the lifelong learners.

OUR ORGANIZATION

INSTRUCTOR STAFFING

Each department recruits high quality instructors to meet the needs of their students and unit. English as a Second Language, Credit Studies Division and Distance Learning Division instructors are hired based on the University of Regina Faculty Association contract either on a permanent, term or sessional basis. For courses offered by other faculties through the Centre, instructors are hired by approval and review of the Faculty. Lifelong Learning Centre, Business and Professional Development and Conservatory of Performing Arts instructors are contacted based on course demand.

During 2009-2010, the Centre operated with nine permanent faculty members and 315 sessional instructors over four semesters.

CONTINUING EDUCATION PROGRAMS

OUR PROGRAMS

We recognize the need for greater continuing education opportunities and flexibility of our programming. We have worked hard to enhance and expand our programs for people of all ages and all stages of life in our community and beyond.

Our degree courses and programs provide many certificates and diplomas in specialized career fields and also allow students to ladder into full degree programs. These programs are offered near and far through distance learning options making education at the U of R easy anywhere, anytime.

Our personal and professional programs offer many career advancement courses for working professionals and leisure classes of personal interest for those who enjoy learning as a hobby.

DEGREE COURSES & PROGRAMS

DEGREE COURSES & PROGRAMS

We are continuously growing our courses and programs for degrees, diplomas and certificates with the mature learner in mind. Not only do we offer an array of courses and programs, we offer course flexibility and a variety of delivery methods to meet the needs of people with busy lifestyles who want to fit university into their schedule.

We work with partner faculties and federated colleges to update, refresh and develop relevant certificate options in response to emerging trends in student and market needs.

The Credit Studies Division houses many diploma and certificate programs ideal for many. People in the workforce can add value to their resume or gain skills and knowledge in a particular industry. Degree students can complement their program. People who want to get started in university can start with a certificate or diploma before enrolling in a full degree program.

For those who live outside of Regina, we bring education to them through the Distance Learning Division. It offers online, televised and video conferenced courses, as well as face-to-face courses at regional colleges throughout Saskatchewan. People can take our online courses from anywhere in the world.

During 2009-2010, the Distance Learning Division in partnership with the Center for Advanced Technology provided the instructional design, learner and instructor support for all off-campus distance learning funded under the 2009-2010 TEL grant.

KRISTEN LOWE

Former Credit Studies Division Student

“My story begins ten years ago when I started taking a business diploma at Mount Royal College in Calgary. I took one semester and found it too difficult and dropped out to go to trade school. Ten years later I found myself married with 2 kids and a stay at home mom. I have always regretted the decision to drop out and finally decided to do something about it.

I enrolled in the Certificate in Administration and started last spring. I am finding this go around very interesting and terrifying. Walking into a class with so many young students was very intimidating until I realized they are all feeling the same as I did ten years ago. I appreciate my schooling now as an adult and am now going to be transferring to full time status to get my degree in business. Had I not taken the first step to go back, I never would have had the confidence to continue on. Thank you Centre for Continuing Education!”

“I appreciate my schooling now as an adult... Thank you Centre for Continuing Education!”

ANN BISHOP

Lifelong Learning Centre Student

“My story is a simple one. Since I am a believer in life-long learning, I always said that I wanted to take classes at the Lifelong Learning Centre. Since I was determined to become fit in my later years, I took a T'ai Chi class. It was great. A friend and I took it together and we both enjoyed it so much we continued with higher level classes.

I also volunteer with the Centre and plan to take classes that will allow me to become a literacy coach or teacher. I am looking forward to being able to help others experience what I have experienced as a reader over the years.”

STRATEGIC PLAN

2010-2015

2010 is the beginning of a new strategy. The Centre's strategic plan is strongly developed around the University's goals and objectives based on its theme, "Our Work, Our People and Our Communities." The Centre has found opportunities to greatly impact the University's strategic plan through our lifelong learning mandate for students of all ages.

A fresh vision, mandate, and values, along with new goals and objectives will advance the common goals of the University and give the Centre a roadmap to future success.

We have set out to achieve the following goals over the next five years...

Strengthen our programs for people of all ages through growth and improvement

We will find ways to improve and expand our programs, program synergies and interdependencies between programs.

Become the partner of choice for continuing education opportunities

We will improve our relationships with our internal partners/clients (faculties, departments, and non-academic units) and external partners/clients and community.

Increase our student base and enhance our reputation and the service experience and environment for our students and instructors

We will improve client interactions and the experience of students and instructors through better inquiry and registration processes, improved service for instructors, by evaluating our administrative structure to make adjustments as needed, use Lean Thinking, establish closer relationships with Human Resources, and develop stronger marketing and communication efforts.

Raise the profile and increase the presence of the University locally and beyond

We will increase, improve and maintain our community service, improve our campus facilities for staff and visitors and improve and increase outreach efforts to take the University to the community.

Responsibly Manage and Grow the University's Resources

We will optimize our resources, integrate strategic planning into our yearly cycle of activities, most especially into our budget planning processes, build contingency funding and multi-year investments into our budget process and adopt the Balanced Scorecard approach in order to find and maintain the appropriate balance between cost-recovery, growth and our social mandate.

We believe our strategic plan will help us achieve our vision and mission for the Centre for Continuing Education. These six high level goals will make us stronger, more efficient and able to serve our students and the community better. Our strategic plan paves the way to greater success as a provider of lifelong learning.
