Use of Wiley-Provided Instructors' Materials

Use of Wiley-provided instructors' materials (henceforth the "Material") for course instruction purposes is permitted as long as the corresponding book has been adopted and is deemed a required course text. Specifically, you may reproduce the Material for the following purposes:

- inclusion in a secure, password-protected course website for use by students enrolled in the course for no longer than the duration of the course;
- use by the instructor as presentation material in classroom lectures;
- inclusion in instructor-created quizzes/tests/exams, hand-outs, or assignments

All other uses would require written permission. Credit must appear on the Material and must include the title, author(s) and/or editor(s), copyright (year and owner), and the statement, "This material is reproduced with the permission of John Wiley & Sons Canada, Ltd."

The Material may not be reproduced, transmitted or displayed in any format or medium, except as specifically set forth above, or for inclusion in course packs or any saleable products, without written consent of Wiley. Any third party material is expressly excluded from this permission. If any of the Material you wish to use appears with credit to another source, authorization from that source must be obtained.

Please note that, in order to protect the integrity of problem material, permission to reproduce solutions in any format is not included in this grant of permission and will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

If you require further information or would like to inquire about the reproduction of solutions, please contact Sara Tinteri at stinteri@wiley.com.
