

HOW TO FUND YOUR EDUCATION

MONEY MATTERS

We get it - money is stressful! And trying to discover how you are going to pay for your education is always at the top of a student's mind. But not to worry! The University of Regina has a variety of different ways that you can fund your future.

Scholarships reward outstanding academic achievement, awards recognize extracurricular involvement or volunteerism, and bursaries assist students with financial need. Some scholarships will be automatically awarded, while others will require an application form. Government student aid and band funding opportunities can also be great options for post-secondary directed students.

GOVERNMENT STUDENT FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

In Canada, student financial assistance (student loans and grants) is available from the federal and provincial/territorial governments. There are two main forms of assistance available: loans and grants. Student loans must be paid back whereas grants, in most cases, do not need to be repaid.

You apply for government student assistance in your home province, even if you are planning to study in another province.

Government student assistance is intended to help you pay for your education. The amount of assistance available will depend on your personal and family situation and can only be determined after you have submitted an application. Find more information about Government Student Financial Assistance here: <https://www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/education/student-aid/grants-loans.html>
