9 WAYS TO AVOID A PARKING TICKET

1. Watch and follow signs.
2. Parking permit (hang tag) must be displayed all times.
4. Do not park in accessible parking spots without the required permit.
5. Ensure your permit is hanging correctly.
6. Respect meter times. Remember to allow enough time to leave and reach your vehicle before the time expires.
7. Parking Enforcement has a zero-tolerance policy about parking or stopping in a bus zone. If you park or stop in a bus zone, your vehicle will be ticketed, and possibly towed.
8. If you are unsure of your parking choice, find another spot. A poor parking decision can lead to impacts on others and a ticket for you.
9. Plug the meter for more time than you plan to be parked in case of delay.

Parkade (Underground Parking) – Permit
There are three heated underground Parkades located at Dr. William Riddell Centre, Centre of Kinesiology, and Kışık Tower Building (permit only). All require either a permit or payment for hourly parking.

Carpool
The Carpool is for two or more individuals who ride in one vehicle to the University on a regular basis. To register your carpool group, contact Parking & Transportation Services with the details about your vehicle and the passengers in your carpool group.

Accessible Parking
Accessible parking offers parking spots to people with disability. Arrangements for temporary or permanent Accessible Parking can be made in person at the Parking and Transportation office.

Parking Enforcement
Parking regulations are in effect 24 hours a day, therefore, vehicles parked in non-compliance may be ticketed and/or towed.

Violations and Tickets
All notices of violations (parking tickets) are paid to the City of Regina, online or in person at the City of Regina, 2476 Victoria Avenue.

Appeal a Parking Ticket
If you feel your ticket was issued in error, you may file an appeal. Your ticket appeal must be received within 4 working days of the ticket issuance date by completing and submitting online, an appeal form is available on the Parking and Transportation Services’ website: www.uregina.ca/fm/parking/infractions/appeals.
