12 Ways the University of Regina is Getting Ready for Fall 2021

1. Two Doses
   We continue to support public health vaccination efforts. COVID-19 vaccinations are available on campus through the Student Wellness Centre. Emails will be sent to all students, faculty and staff with locations and times for these clinics.

2. Self-Screening
   Students, faculty and staff will continue to use the Saskatchewan Health Authority COVID-19 Self-Assessment, and stay home if unwell. The university has provided a flow chart here to help determine if you should come to campus.

For more information on the University’s commitment to stay safe during the Fall 2021 term, visit the UofR website here. Please note that safety protocols are subject to change according to public health orders.
3. Masking
   Masks will continue to be mandatory in all campus buildings. University of Regina Masking Guidelines can be found here.

4. Physical Distancing
   The campus community is encouraged, where possible, to continue to maintain a physical distance of 2m (or 6 feet) from others. All class spaces will be restricted to 50% of the room’s rated capacity for the Fall 2021 term.

5. Contact Tracing
   We continue to support enhanced contact tracing efforts by maintaining a close relationship with local public health authorities and by contacting all members of our campus community who report feeling unwell with COVID-like symptoms.

6. Cleaning and Sanitization
   Strict cleaning and sanitization protocols will continue on campus with a focus on washrooms, high touch and high traffic areas.

7. Building Ventilation
   University building ventilation (HVAC) systems meet all industry standards. They are designed to circulate fresh air safely and are monitored on a regular basis with enhanced filters installed.

8. Personal Hygiene
   Practicing good hygiene habits is encouraged and always appreciated. This includes frequent hand-washing, sanitizing, and coughing and sneezing into your elbow.

9. Individual Awareness
   All faculty, staff, students, contractors and visitors will be expected to complete the Return to Campus e-training course before returning to campus.

10. Rapid Response
    Quick reaction responses will continue to manage all confirmed cases of COVID-19 on campus.

11. Campus Density
    With decreased class sizes and the amount of remote class offerings, university campuses will remain low density for the Fall 2021 term.

12. Students, Faculty, and Staff Supports
    As we transition back to campus, there continue to be numerous supports for physical and mental wellness available to all students, faculty and staff.
