ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE PROGRAM

The University of Regina supports excellence in research, teaching, and public service. As one of Canada’s leading comprehensive universities, we are a dynamic institution with a strong national and international reputation for research and outstanding educational programs. The research being conducted by scholars and scientists at the University of Regina truly is of global impact and importance.

GRADUATE STUDIES

RESEARCH KEY AREAS
Critical to our success are strategic research clusters, which have been identified as a function of their critical mass (highly-qualified personnel), performance (impact), and distinctiveness:
Life in a University of Regina residence encourages you to build friendships and participate in the social and educational activities available on campus. Our residences are some of the most affordable in Canada. There are 1,200 fully-furnished rooms in four residences, with an amazing new residence that’s just opened. You will always have a private bedroom, whether you live by yourself, with a roommate, or in dormitory or apartment-style housing.

U of R residences have full-time live-in Residence Life Coordinators and Resident Assistants to assist you after hours. The Assistant Manager of Residence Life, along with the Resident Assistants, organize programs, special events, and help students living on their floors to feel comfortable and adjust to campus life.

Enjoy being close to class, food, friends, and everything you need to study or relax, including games rooms, lounges, study rooms, and more. Enjoy high speed internet, cable TV, and telephone connections without fees. Our campus is connected, so you can walk almost anywhere without having to step outside (great on cold days!).

Studies show that students who live on campus are more likely to complete their programs!

This year, all first-year residents have the opportunity to apply to live in one of four Living-Learning Communities (LLC). LLCs are floors or clusters of rooms where students with similar faculties or interests live and learn together. The Living-Learning Communities are:

- HEALTH & WELLNESS: Recreational programs, information sessions, and tutoring will aid members of this LLC.
- ENGINEERING: Student support includes evening seminars, informal discussions with professors, common area project space, and tutoring.
- SOCIAL JUSTICE & LEADERSHIP: A community associated with Campion College that forms engaged leaders who promote justice, sustainability, and positive change, locally and globally.
- GLOBAL CITIZEN: Working closely with UR International, members will gain a deeper understanding of diversity, and of their own culture, in a comparative context.

To learn more about LLCs at the U of R, visit www.uregina.ca/student/residence/future/llcs/index.htm in scholarships, awards and bursaries (including international awards) were awarded between January 1, 2014 and December 31, 2014.

I was born in a rural area in Jilin, China. In 2003, I left China after high school graduation to go to the University of Regina and take the English as a Second Language (ESL) Program. It was my first time outside of China and the culture shock and homesickness were the biggest challenges for me.

I was lucky to have ended up studying at the University of Regina and have the help of the UR International team. When I arrived in Regina, I spoke limited English and knew nothing about Canada. I received many support services from UR International such as finding a Canadian homestay, additional English coaching, and instruction on how to renew a study permit and file tax returns. Most importantly, I made many new friends at the events that UR International hosted. It made me feel like I was in my hometown.

Regina is a quiet city where students can concentrate on their studies and the people are very friendly. Since the University of Regina has many international students, I have not only gained professional knowledge, but also learned about many different cultures without having to travel around the world.

After one year of study through ESL basic to advanced classes, I was accepted for admission to the Faculty of Engineering and Applied Science. I received a Bachelor Degree in Petroleum Systems Engineering from the University of Regina in 2009. Over the six years of living in Regina, I fell in love with my second hometown. I decided to stay and took a job with the provincial government. In my over five year career with the government, I have worked in numerous departments within two ministries including Ministry of Justice and Deputy Attorney General and Ministry of Environment.

I am now working at the Climate Change Branch of Ministry of Environment as an economic/engineering analyst. With the goal of career advancement in my current situation, I chose University of Regina again for my graduate studies. I am currently working towards my Master’s Degree in Environmental Systems Engineering. My research is focused on climate change impact assessment and modeling of regional energy management systems.

My dream is to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and make a greener and more sustainable world for our future generations.

My wife Tingting Feng originally came from Xi’an, Shaanxi province, China, and moved to Regina in 2004 for studying purposes. We have been married for over four years, and been together for eleven years. Her original plan was to take ESL at the University of Regina, then go to Ontario for her Bachelor Degree. After she graduated from ESL, she felt everything was suitable for her here and she decided to take her Bachelor Degree in Business Administration at the University of Regina.

During her second year, she joined the Co-operative Work Program in order to find a job while studying. With the guidance of UR International office, she easily received her work permit and began a first and then second work term in an accounting firm in Swift Current. It was a great experience for Tingting to see the accounting world before she took accounting courses. Her third work term was in Ministry of Justice and Deputy Attorney General as a revenue clerk. She got the job from the same office where she worked for her third Co-op work term in 2009. Currently, she is working within Ministry of Economy, Government of Saskatchewan, as a budget and financial analyst.

My wife and I spend a lot of time travelling, fishing and golfing and we are big fans of the Saskatchewan Roughriders Football Team. Our first baby, Ariana, was born in March this year and Ariana’s grandfather gave her the Chinese middle name “FangAi” which means “a bright future”.
