

Masters or PhD in Kinesiology and Health Studies, University of Regina

Unique opportunity for a Graduate Assistantship in Athlete Health and Performance

The Faculty of Kinesiology and Health Studies at the University of Regina is accepting applications to its MSc and PhD graduate program in Athlete Health and Performance. Potential focus areas include musculoskeletal physiology, exercise metabolism, sport nutrition, sport psychology and mental training, strength and conditioning, sports medicine, and biomechanics. Eligible students must have a degree in Kinesiology, Human Kinetics or equivalent (minimum 70% GPA) and be a Canadian Society for Exercise Physiology - Certified Exercise Physiologist (CEP), Certified Personal Training (CPT) or NSCA - Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS). Funding is available (up to $16,000 CAD/year - additional funding may be available). Successful students will assist in athlete strength and conditioning program design, supervision of athlete training, as well as research and performance based testing as part of the Athlete Health and Performance Initiative at the University of Regina.

Application deadline is April 10, 2017
