GOAL: Developing advocates (leaders) in your community for sport, recreation and health.

The Faculty of Kinesiology and Health Studies at the University of Regina is excited to offer the 5th Annual Fred Sasakamoose Aboriginal Youth Leadership & Wellness Program May 26-28, 2016. The purpose of the program is to encourage leadership and development of youth through sport, recreation and health, and to encourage youth to take what they’ve discovered back to their schools and communities to help build capacity in these important areas. Empowering youth to empower others is the ultimate goal.

For this to be successful, we would like you to encourage two Grade 11 Aboriginal youth from your school that you feel demonstrate leadership already, or have the capacity to be leaders if given the right encouragement, to complete the attached application. We would like there to be at least 10 students representing five or more communities in Saskatchewan outside of Regina, so space will be limited. In the event that we have more applications than space available, students and the schools will be notified as soon as possible. We would like a balance of male and female participants, so please keep that in mind when approaching your students. Ideally, the students would be in grade 11, so that they are able to work on their leadership skills over their grade 12 year, but we can be flexible, and will consider mature grade 10 students or grade 12 students.

School chaperones are welcomed and encouraged to attend. It helps the youth maintain the momentum when they get back to school and planning ways to take their leadership to the next level. Most sessions will be done together, however there may be an opportunity for specialized programming if there are enough present for the weekend. Students (and chaperones) will spend Thursday and Friday nights in Residence on campus. We will have accommodations available on Wednesday evening for those attending from outside of Regina – please advise us if this will be required on the Chaperone registration form.

It is important that the students are committed for the duration of the program, regardless if from Regina or out of town.

More details on the agenda will be provided as we finalize the activities for this year, and posted to our website: http://www.uregina.ca/kinesiology/fsaylwp.html.

If you have any questions, please don’t hesitate to contact me.
