INTERVIEWS FOR BITTER EMBRACE

Biographical Sketch: Maggie Siggins was born on May 28, 1942 in Toronto and attended Ryerson Polytechnical University from 1962 to 1965 earning a Bachelor degree in Applied Arts.

She is an author who has worked as a magazine writer, political columnist and television reporter and film producer. From 1965 to 1970 she was a general reporter with the Toronto Telegram. She was a freelance writer with Chatelaine from 1970-71 in Toronto. At City-TV, also in Toronto, she worked as an on-air political reporter/commentator. She worked with CBC Toronto as a reporter/interviewer/producer from 1975 until 1977. From 1979 to 1981 she was with CityPulse News in Toronto as a producer. From 1981 to 1983 (still in Toronto), she produced freelance work for Toronto Life, Reader's Digest, Financial Post, Today Magazine, MacLean's and others. While in China, in 1985-86 she worked at the New China News Agency.

She has taught Journalism while a Max Bell Professor in Journalism at the University of Regina in 1983-84 and Professor of Graduate Studies at the Beijing Broadcast Institute during her 1985-86 visit to China.

Siggins has written twelve books including: A Guide to Skiing in Eastern North America, 1969; How to Catch a Man co-authored with Ben Wicks, 1970; Bassett: his Forty Years in Politics, Publishing, Business and Sports, 1979; Brian and the Boys: a Story of Gang Rape, 1984; A Canadian Tragedy JoAnn and Colin Thatcher: a Story of Love and Hate, 1985; Revenge of the Land: a Century of Greed, Tragedy and Murder on a Saskatchewan Farm, 1991; Louis Riel: a Life of Revolution, 1994; In her Own Time: a Class Reunion Inspires a Cultural History of Women, 1999; Bitter Embrace: White Society's Assault on the Woodland Cree, 2005 and Marie-Anne: The Extraordinary Life of Louis Riel's Grandmother. Two novels are scheduled for 2014. Scattered Bones which takes place in Pelican Narrows, Saskatchewan and Greedy, a story of insider trading. Louis Riel: a Life of Revolution and Marie-Anne have both been published in French. Maggie's first novel, Scattered Bones will be published by Coteau in April 2016.

She has received numerous awards: Southam Journalism Fellowship at the University of Toronto in 1974-75; Arthur Ellis Award in the Best True Crime Category for A Canadian Tragedy JoAnn and Colin Thatcher: A Story of Love and Hate in 1986; Governor General's Award for Non-Fiction for Revenge of the Land: a Century of Greed, Tragedy and Murder on a Saskatchewan Farm in 1992; City of Regina Best Book Award for Louis Riel: a Life of Revolution in 1994; and City of Regina Best Book Award for In her Own Time: a Class Reunion Inspires a Cultural History of Women in 1999.

A Canadian Tragedy JoAnn and Colin Thatcher: A Story of Love and Hate was produced as a four-hour mini-series by CBC Television. The CBC aired the series in December 1989 NBC in July 1990 in the United States, BBC in England in 1991 and over 40 other countries since. Louis Riel: a Life of Revolution was translated into French by Editions Québec-Amérique of Montreal in the spring of 1996. Revenge of the Land: A Century of Greed, Tragedy and Murder on a Saskatchewan Farm was produced into a four-hour mini-series with CBC and aired in December 2000.

The Life and Times of Gordon Tootossis, Unhealed Wounds, Scarred by History, was nominated for "Best Historical Documentary" at Toronto's International Documentary Film Festival and the second episode, Nanjing Nightmares was nominated for two awards at Canada's Yorkton Film Festival. The highly acclaimed A Cruel Wind Blows was the first Saskatchewan movie to win Yorkton's Best Film Award.

Maggie Siggins is also fluent in Mandarin Chinese and literate in French. She currently resides in Toronto with her husband Gerry B. Sperling and two dogs.

INTERVIEWS FOR BITTER EMBRACE

Scope and Content: This small accession consists of 4 audio cassette tapes and 9 mini cassette tapes (2 are blank)

The material is related to Siggins interviews for work on Bitter Embrace: White Society's Assault on the Woodland Cree. The interviews took place in 2003-2004 when Maggie Siggins spent the winter in a cabin near Pelican Narrows, Saskatchewan, a part of the Peter Ballantyne First Nation. These interviews tell the incredible, often tragic, story of the Woodland Cree. Many are with elders, several of whom have since passed away. Philip Ratt, for example, a truly remarkable man with a near-perfect memory who recounted in detail his experience of residential schools and the elimination of the Cree livelihood. He died just months after its publication.

Custodial History: The collection was sent to the University of Regina Archives and Special Collections by the donor in September 2015.

Restrictions: There are no restrictions on this material.

Related Accessions: 84-4, 84-26, 87-46, 94-67, 2000-23, 2002-43, 2005-30 and 2008-18 and 2013-22.
