* Note on arrangement: New file titles and file order. Original order not deemed usable.

This collection contains the personal papers of Saskatchewan writer and teacher Sharon Butala. She received her B.A. and B.Ed. from the University of Saskatchewan. Besides having been published in numerous periodicals and anthologies she has sent four books to print between 1984 and 1988. Amongst other honours the author won the 1986 Writers' Choice award.

Butala's efforts in diverse genres is reflected in her papers. She has written novels, short stories and plays. This collection contains various drafts, notes and correspondence pertaining to Sweet Time, Country of the Heart and other works.

A notable aspect of the Butala papers is her substantial, correspondence. This includes letters from several writers, academics, organizations and others. In addition, numerous congratulatory notes from readers, friends and associates have been included under the heading "General Correspondence."
