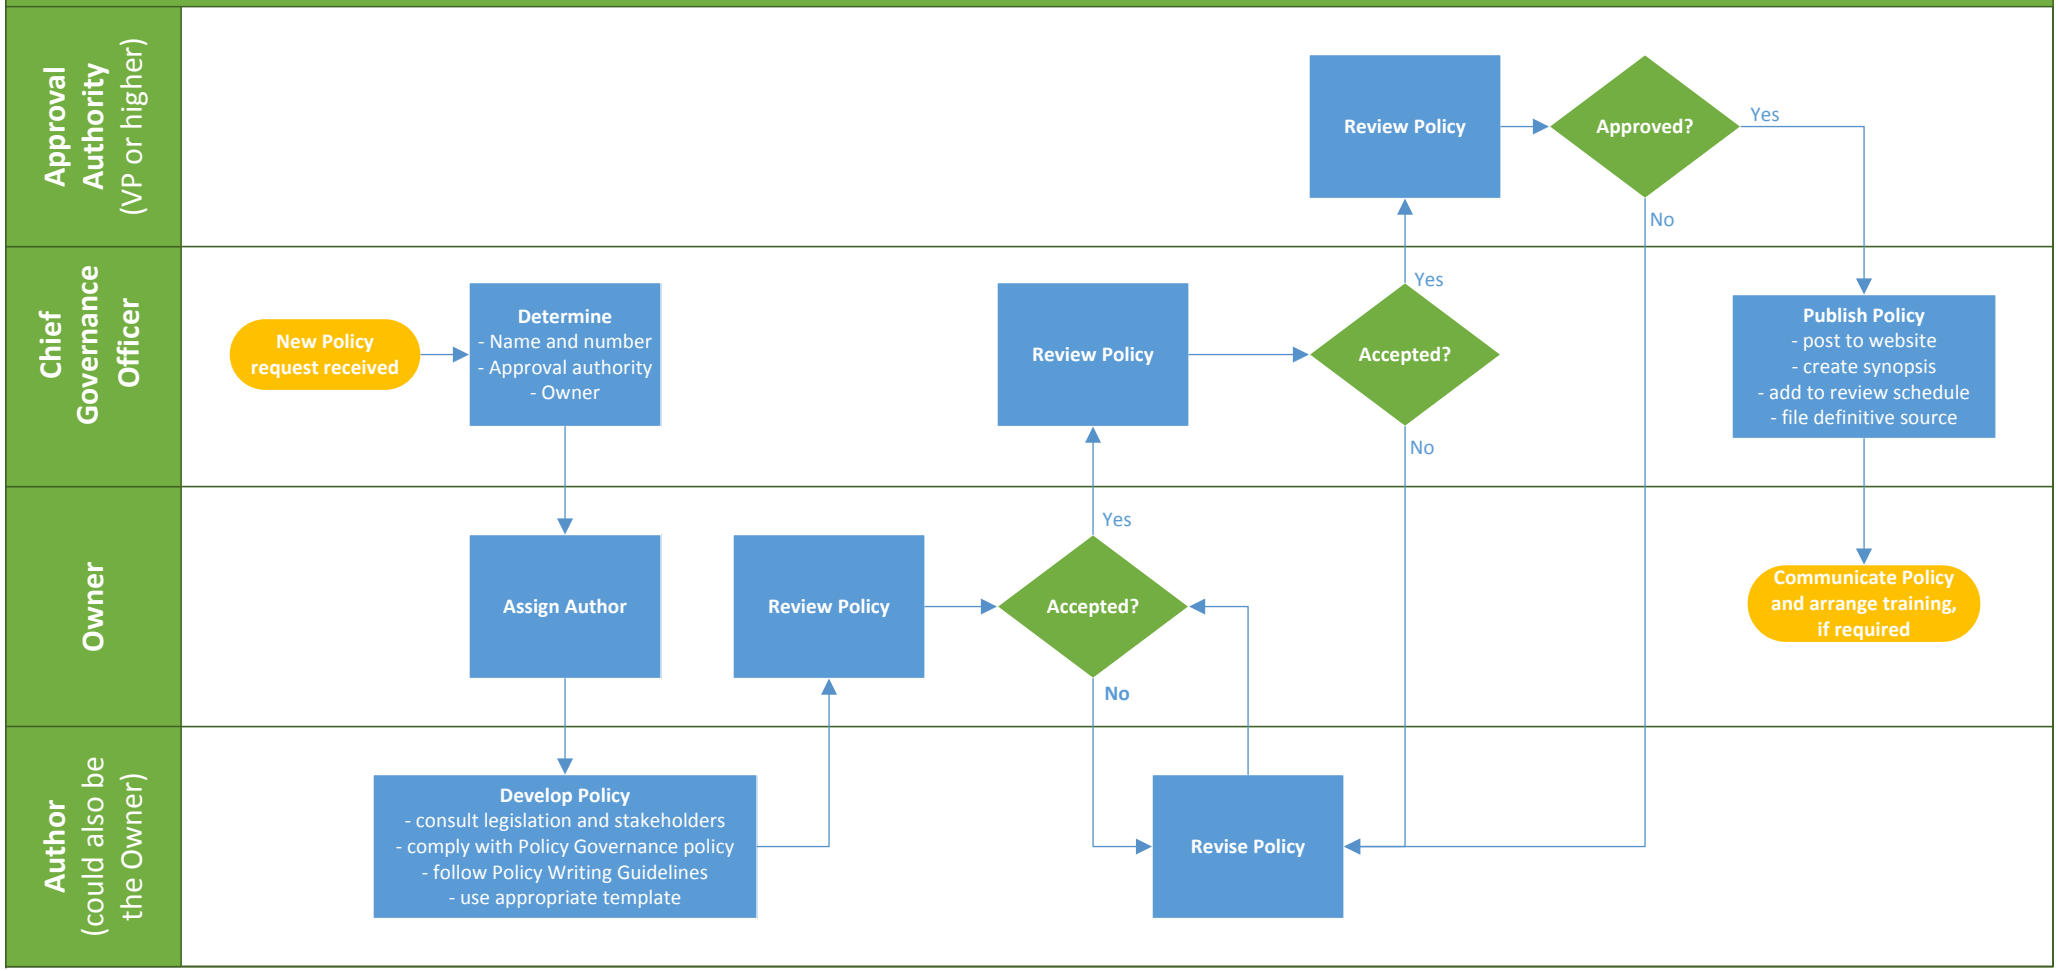
New Policy

A new policy may be prompted in a number of ways, including:


- a request from a University member
- a request from internal or external auditors
- an issue raised
- changes to business practices
- risk mitigation required
- new or updated laws