No business arising.

5. CHAIR’S REMARKS
   • Undergraduate enrolments in Science have increased 15.3% compared to September 2016.
   • Academic Unit Reviews were undertaken last year in the Department of Biology and the Department of Computer Science. In both cases, the reports were enthusiastic about the quality of academic programming and research by those two units. In the coming academic year, the Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry is scheduled for an AUR.
   • Dr. Daniel Gagnon, the former Dean of Science, has returned to Science as a member of the Department of Biology after spending a year on administrative leave.
   • Two tenure-track faculty members were recruited over the summer months: Dr. Geoffrey Fathom Grinyer (Assistant Professor of Physics) and Dr. Andrew Chan (Laboratory Instructor II in Chemistry & Biochemistry). Searches are underway or starting up for tenure-track positions in the Department of Geology and the Department of Mathematics & Statistics, as well as for a 3-year term Assistant Professor in the Department of Computer Science.
   • September 15 saw the successful conclusion to two searches for nominees Canada 150 Research Chairs in that both nominations were submitted to the Canada Research Chairs Secretariat. Two very strong nominees were recruited, one for a C150 Research Chair in Artificial Intelligence, and one for a C150 Chair in Water, Environment and Society. Adjudication through a national competition occurs this fall. Thank you to everyone who lent their time to these efforts, and thank you to Drs. Sandra Zilles and Peter Leavitt for leading these two searches.
• We are carefully managing Science’s financial resources after receiving a permanent reduction in our last budget cycle. Science’s priority is on investments in initiatives that significantly advance our mission in research in teaching.

• The soft internal deadline for NSERC Discovery Grant applications to be received in the Dean's Office is October 1st. Science will have 24 applications submitted this cycle. This is double the number of applications from last year. Please send me the PDF of your application as soon as possible. I also encourage you to have your application read by departmental colleagues.

Note that the RO deadline is October 11th, since the UofR had 50 NSERC NOIs submitted this cycle.

• NSERC RTI is now an open competition. There are no quotas. Each researcher can submit one application as applicant or co-applicant.

• We submitted 2 Canada 150 Research Chair applications to NSERC. I would like to thank Peter Leavitt (Biology), Sandra Zilles (Computer Science), and Michelle Beittel (Research Office) for their help in preparing these applications under severe time constraints.
