* Courses in parentheses are prerequisites (those with * can be taken concurrently with the course selected)

** These 400-level courses are not necessarily offered every year – consult with the department for their availability. In addition to those listed here, you may also consider reading classes and/or theses (talk to your professors about your interest and their availability)

*** Consult with the student academic advisor regarding the APEGS requirements – there is a list of courses that are acceptable by APEGS and those that are not acceptable by APEGS.
