OUR VISION

University Advancement and Communications (UAC) aspires to be viewed as an essential service within the University community.

Our engaged and collaborative staff are recognized as leaders in marketing, communications and advancement services. They are known for the valuable service they provide to our communities, and are acknowledged for the significant revenue source they generate to strategically advance University priorities.

OUR MANDATE

UAC exists to provide services that further both the institutional and individual faculty and administrative units’ mandates. Our efforts are driven by the needs of our internal stakeholders as well as the interests and expectations of our external stakeholders, with a focus on achieving alignment between internal needs and external interests. UAC’s mandate can be summarized in three words:

ENHANCE | ENGAGE | ADVANCE

Everything we do must result in at least one of these three outcomes, which are described in more detail below:

ENHANCE

Through our collective efforts to promote the University and communicate important information to stakeholders, UAC enhances the University’s reputation, builds pride in the University, and improves the overall experience that students, faculty, staff and stakeholders have with the University.

ENGAGE

As individuals and as a unit, we engage with our communities. We listen to perspectives, tap into passions, and align our stakeholder’s needs with opportunities. UAC brings the University’s stakeholder communities together to accomplish common goals.

ADVANCE

Through the relationships that we develop and steward, we create opportunities to build interest and pride in the University, and acquire resources to advance the University’s mission of teaching, research and public service.
OUR VALUES

We hold ourselves to a high standard, operating with honesty, integrity and mutual respect in all our interactions with others.

Teamwork and inclusion are at the heart of what we do.

Excellence drives us to become viewed as an essential service that adds value to the Institution.

WHO WE ARE

University Advancement and Communications team members:

are committed and passionate;
We believe in the power of education to improve the lives of individuals and benefit the community, and are committed to strengthening the mandate of the University and its Faculties and Administrative units.

communicate and collaborate;
We recognize the power achieved through common understanding and shared information, and the potential achieved when ideas from multiple people and insights from various practices are harnessed.

hold ourselves to high standards;
We recognize and value the trust that our communities place in us. We are accountable for our actions, operate with the highest integrity, and always strive for excellence.

are creative and courageous;
When faced with obstacles, we lead with integrity and take the path less travelled. We are not afraid to think outside the box and see opportunities where others may not.

are resilient;
We recognize that not all efforts will be successful but we will persist and demonstrate adaptability in the face of adversity. We fall six times and stand up seven, never giving up on reaching our goals.

are family.
We are related by affinity. As members of the Advancement and Communications family, we support one another; we create a safe environment filled with people you can count on; we respect each other; are accountable to each other; and care about one another. We enjoy each other’s company. And, we succeed and fail together.
OUR KEY AUDIENCES

The University of Regina has numerous key stakeholders that are either currently engaged with the institution or with whom we want to engage. UAC, representing the University and all of its faculties and administrative units, is required to pay attention to and engage with all of them. UAC’s primary stakeholders can be categorized into six key audience groups:

- Prospective Students and Guardians
- Current Students and Alumni
- Donors
- Faculty andStaff
- Communities (i.e. chambers of commerce, associations, not for profits, Boards of Education, special interest groups, the community at large, and actual communities – towns, cities, first nations communities, other Saskatchewan locations etc.)
- Government (all levels)

In all of our interactions with these audiences, our desire is to achieve a common and consistent outcome for all members of that audience. This desired outcome, then, serves to help guide the development of our communications, marketing, development and alumni and community engagement efforts. In all that we do, our efforts should be directed toward the achievement of the following desired outcomes for each member of the listed audiences.

If we are effective in what we do:

- Prospective Students and Guardians
  will be informed about, engaged with, and motivated to select the University of Regina as their post-secondary institution of choice.

- Current Students and Alumni
  will be so proud of their connection to the University that they feel inspired to share their time, talent and treasures with the institution.

- Donors
  will be inspired to give and will trust the University to maximize the impact that their contribution will have on our students, the institution and the larger community.

- Faculty and Staff
  will partner with UAC to build pride in the institution and advance collective priorities.

- Communities
  will want to interact with the University of Regina, will see it as “their” University and will be invested in its success.

- Government
  will see us as a partner and economic and social driver who supports their mandate and will be invested in our success.
